Cruikshank, 1992 A United States general describes his command of the deployment of U S troops and supplies to the Persian Gulf in the war with Iraq and recommends his methods of leadership and resource management for use in the business world Moving Mountains William G. Pagonis, 1992-08-01 Business Week described the Gulf War as the largest military logistics operation in history It entailed an unprecedented deployment of troops supplies halfway around the world a management job that Norman Schwarzkopf hailed as an absolute gigantic accomplishment From Desert Shield to Desert Storm to Desert Farewell the numbers were staggering 122 million meals served 1 3 billion gallons of fuel pumped 12 575 aircraft processed Here is a firsthand account of the supply effort that led to the dramatic Allied victory in the Gulf written by the general who spearheaded the remarkable undertaking In clear compelling language General Pagonis recounts the Gulf War from the first fateful telephone call to the mobilization of 550 000 troops the shipment of 7 000 000 tons of supplies to the enormously complex challenge of bringing home a half million soldiers their equipment Numerous leadership logistics lessons can be gleaned from his experience Pagonis describes his battlefield innovations such as the log cell Ghostbuster squad as well as his inspirational leadership style His highly effective management techniques apply to information flow time management motivation customer service organizational design Using historical examples from Alexander the Great to Rommel to the Israeli Army current business practice he makes a strong case for better leadership better logistics both on the military in the private sector Military Law Review , 1999

Powerlift--Getting to Desert Storm Doug Menarchik, 1993-09-30 Logistics the movement of forces to battlefields their supply and on going support is critical to military success Although this principle is theoretically accepted the importance of being well prepared to rapidly transport troops and supplies to distant crisis points has not been complemented as Menarchik shows by adequate lift capabilities The author uses the six month buildup to Desert Storm as proof that the United States needs to increase the priority of logistics in strategy and improve its strategic transport capabilities especially surge strategic lift Current transport capabilities will not be positioned or structured to respond effectively to the contingencies associated with America's growing responsibilities given the realities of the New World Order Menarchik himself an experienced pilot policy planner and operational commander clearly demonstrates that Powerlift directly affects choices timing strategy development and implementation and sweeping policy options He shows that although combat strategy and tactics receive high profile attention it is Lift capability and capacity as a prerequisite that is fundamental to attaining objectives Readers will learn where how and why America needs to improve its capabilities
