Computerized Modeling of Sedimentary Systems Jan Harff, Wolfram Lemke, Karl Stattegger, 2013-03-14. Computerized modeling is a powerful tool to describe the complex interrelations between measured data and the dynamics of sedimentary systems. Complex interaction of environmental factors with natural variations and increasing anthropogenic intervention is reflected in the sedimentary record at varying scales. The understanding of these processes gives way to the reconstruction of the past and is a key to the prediction of future trends. Especially in cases where observations are limited and/or expensive computer simulations may substitute for the lack of data. State of the art research work requires a thorough knowledge of processes at the interfaces between atmosphere, hydrosphere, biosphere and lithosphere and is therefore an interdisciplinary approach.
