Government Finance Statistics to Strengthen Fiscal Analysis International Monetary Fund. Fiscal Affairs Dept., International Monetary Fund. Statistics Dept., 2010-02-26 This paper seeks Board approval of a phased migration strategy for implementing the GFSM 2001 as the standard for Fund fiscal data. The financial crisis has underscored the need for better and more comparable fiscal data including on government assets and liabilities. In 2005 the Board endorsed the Government Finance Statistics Manual 2001 GFSM 2001 and asked staff to propose a migration strategy for the Fund based on lessons to be drawn from conducting pilot studies. The pilot studies and other tests confirmed that some aspects of the GFSM 2001 methodology primarily relating to presentation can be implemented by staff with relatively modest resource needs while other aspects can proceed meaningfully only after member countries have made sufficient progress in their own fiscal reporting including in detailed balance sheet breakdowns and in strengthening underlying accounting systems.

Government Finance Statistics Yearbook, 2012 International Monetary Fund. Statistics Dept., 2013-03-19 The demand for high quality detailed public finance statistics covering a globally representative sample of countries has increased dramatically during the recent financial crisis. Due to the complexity of public finance statistics however such data tend to be either available in oversimplified high level aggregates and lacking in methodological transparency or available with a great level of detail and a unified methodological approach yet overly complicated to understand. The IMF's Government Finance Statistics Yearbook shows fiscal data of around 140 countries following the Government Finance Statistics Manual 2001 framework. The associated database includes data series covering over an almost 40 year period. The IMF's Statistics Department embarked on several initiatives to improve its accessibility.

The Special Data Dissemination Standard International Monetary Fund. Statistics Dept.,2014-01-07 The International Monetary Fund IMF launched the data standards initiatives to enhance member countries data transparency and to promote their development of sound statistical systems The need for data standards was highlighted by the financial crises of the mid 1990s in which information deficiencies were seen to play a role Under the data standards initiatives the IMF established the Special Data Dissemination Standard SDDS in 1996 to provide guidance to countries that have or seek access to capital markets to disseminate key data so that users in general and financial market participants in particular have adequate information to assess the economic situations of individual countries The SDDS not only prescribes that subscribers disseminate certain data categories but also prescribes that subscribers disseminate the relevant metadata to promote public knowledge and understanding of their compilation practices with respect to the required data categories In 1997 the IMF introduced under the initiatives the General Data Dissemination System GDDS to provide a framework for countries that aim to develop their statistical systems within which they can work toward disseminating comprehensive and reliable data and eventually meet SDDS requirements At the Eighth Review of the Fund s Data Standards Initiatives in February 2012 the IMF

s Executive Board approved the SDDS Plus as an upper tier of the Fund s data standards initiatives The SDDS Plus is open to all SDDS subscribers and is aimed at economies with systemically important financial sectors
