Inequality and Flourishing Mariama Ifode-Blease ,2022-06-30 It is no surprise that Christians have long been involved in education the quest for human flourishing and wholeness is at the heart of the gospel and education is critical to that quest Good education has the power to transform our relationships with ourselves with each other with and within communities and ultimately between nation states But what is surprising is our theological silence in the face of the deep injustices which lie at the heart of our education system In Inequality and Flourishing Mariama Ifode Blease explores and exposes these inequalities and calls for a greater remembrance of the bountiful and daunting gift of stewardship we have as we educate young people Drawing on interviews she offers a fresh vision of education as being about giving children the best tools to be stewards of their minds and bodies our communities and ultimately our planet Software for Teaching Science Roger Frost,1998 Economic and Social Survey, Jamaica ,1975 The State We Need Michael Meacher,2013-08-29 At a time when great issues are crying out for resolution financial and economic stagnation an increasingly polarised society global paralysis over climate change and spiritual emptiness and loss of vision throughout the West politics is dominated by spin and manipulation Too many people feel confused cynical and angry and poorly represented by a remote political elite in Westminster Despite the crash that elite are still clinging to the same old ideas that have been tried and found wanting we re still being told that we re not allowed to think outside the box of Thatcher s capitalism This book opens up a whole new vista one that is radical but also practical It presents a different model for business a restructured banking system an alternative economic policy a reconfigured power structure an industrial policy geared to the revival of manufacturing a sharply different approach to employment and welfare as well as inequality in society and a fundamental reassessment of the handling of climate change The State We Need answers the cry of the alienated many It delivers a full analysis of the problems facing the British state and offers the comprehensive resonating vision of Britain for which we ve all been waiting

Engineering Education John Heywood,2005-12-12 A synthesis of nearly 2 000 articles to help make engineers better educators While a significant body of knowledge has evolved in the field of engineering education over the years much of the published information has been restricted to scholarly journals and has not found a broad audience This publication rectifies that situation by reviewing the findings of nearly 2 000 scholarly articles to help engineers become better educators devise more effective curricula and be more effective leaders and advocates in curriculum and research development The author s first objective is to provide an illustrative review of research and development in engineering education since 1960 His second objective is with the examples given to encourage the practice of classroom assessment and research and his third objective is to promote the idea of curriculum leadership The publication is divided into four main parts Part I demonstrates how the underpinnings of education history philosophy psychology sociology determine the aims and objectives of the curriculum and the curriculum's internal structure which integrates assessment content teaching and learning Part II focuses on the curriculum itself considering such key issues as content organization trends and change A chapter on interdisciplinary and integrated study and a chapter on project and problem based models of curriculum are included Part III examines problem solving creativity and design Part IV delves into teaching assessment and evaluation beginning with a chapter on the lecture cooperative learning and teamwork The book ends with a brief insightful forecast of the future of engineering education Because this is a practical tool and reference for engineers each chapter is self contained and may be read independently of the others Unlike other works in engineering education which are generally intended for educational researchers this publication is written not only for researchers in the field of engineering education but also for all engineers who teach All readers acquire a host of practical skills and knowledge in the fields of learning philosophy sociology and history as they specifically apply to the process of engineering curriculum improvement and evaluation
