Leonard Sax

Exampler Economic November 2014 Grade 11:

Wall Street, Reforming the Unreformable David E McClean, 2015-10-06 McClean argues that a collective move towards stewardship within the financial industry is necessary to restore ethical behaviour and public confidence Drawing on practical examples and offering new policy recommendations this unique philosophical study paints a picture of what a truly ethical trading culture of the future might look like

Adapt and Be Adept Terry L. Anderson, 2021-04-01 How can markets help us adapt to the challenges of climate change Editor Terry L Anderson brings together this collection of essays featuring the work of nine leading policy analysts who argue that market forces are just as important as government regulation in shaping climate policy and should be at the heart of our response to helping societies adapt to climate change Anderson notes in his introduction that most current climate policies such as the Paris Agreement require hard to enforce collective action and focus on reducing or mitigating greenhouse gases rather than adapting to their negative effects Adaptive actions can typically deliver much more faster and more cheaply than any realistic climate policy The authors tackle a range of issues the hidden costs of renewable energy sources the political obstacles surrounding climate change policy insurance and financial instruments for pricing risk of exposure to the effects of climate change and more Reliance on emerging renewable energies and a carbon tax are not enough to prevent the effects of global warming they argue We must encourage more private action and market incentives to adapt to a rapidly changing climate

Capital and the Common Good Georgia Levenson Keohane, 2016-09-27 Despite social and economic advances around the world poverty and disease persist exacerbated by the mounting challenges of climate change natural disasters political conflict mass migration and economic inequality While governments commit to addressing these challenges traditional public and philanthropic dollars are not enough Here innovative finance has shown a way forward by borrowing techniques from the world of finance we can raise capital for social investments today Innovative finance has provided polio vaccines to children in the DRC crop insurance to farmers in India pay as you go solar electricity to Kenyans and affordable housing and transportation to New Yorkers It has helped governmental commercial and philanthropic resources meet the needs of the poor and underserved and build a more sustainable and inclusive prosperity Capital and the Common Good shows how market failure in one context can be solved with market solutions from another an expert in securitization bundles future development aid into bonds to pay for vaccines today an entrepreneur turns a mobile phone into an array of financial services for the unbanked and policy makers adapt pay for success models from the world of infrastructure to human services like early childhood education maternal health and job training Revisiting the successes and missteps of these efforts Georgia Levenson Keohane argues that innovative finance is as much about incentives and sound decision making as it is about money When it works innovative finance gives us the tools motivation and security to invest in our shared future

The Trickle-Down Delusion John Seip, Dee Wood Harper, 2016-05-02 From inside the book Since 1980 the economy has been growing and productivity has been growing but trickle down values that we the American people promote pursuant to the Republican Party's conservative ideology have rigged the economy to continuously upwardly redistribute those revenues attributable to our increased productivity yielding a productivity wage disconnect resulting in increased concentration of income and wealth at the top in corporations and among older Americans beneficiaries of income from Social Security pensions and investments and continuing income due to delaying retirement and the lowest percentage of GDP attributable to wages and highest attributable to profits since World War II But trickle down has not only distorted our economic thought it has also distorted our political thought our sociology and our concept of the rule of law The result has been that the trickle down policies promoted by the Republican Party are undermining our economy democracy institutions and health For further discussion contact author at johnjseip gmail com

Pursuing quality education in Physical and Rehabilitation Medicine Francesca Gimigliano, Maria Gabriella Ceravolo, Jorge Lains, 2023-08-15 High quality rehabilitation care represents a constitutive element of health systems worldwide The harmonization of staff education both at the undergraduate and postgraduate level is a key element for ensuring the highest standard of rehabilitation care International bodies like the UEMS Board for Physical and Rehabilitation Medicine PRM or the International Society for PRM have already delivered regulatory documents setting standards in postgraduate PRM education The implementation of such rules is to be validated worldwide with special attention to low and middle income countries This Research Topic aims to stimulate awareness in the scientific community especially for those involved in postgraduate education and policy making decisions It will highlight the need for developing competency based education as a powerful mechanism to align education and training with health system priorities This holds particular value for resource limited countries where the knowledge and skills of rehabilitation doctors need to reflect not only the population s health profile but also the strengths and weaknesses e g workforce gaps and maldistributions of the health system This goal can be achieved through sharing experiences between those who have engaged themselves in the process of program development curriculum design and competency based education in rehabilitation Over the last 25 years the number of papers addressing the issue of residency education in PRM has exponentially increased testifying the interest towards the role of rehabilitation and more specifically of the PRM doctors as leaders of the rehabilitation team      The Economic Roots of the Umbrella Movement in Hong Kong Louis

Augustin-Jean,Anthea Cheung,2018-02-15 In the autumn of 2014 thousands of people young and educated in their majority occupied the chief business district and seat of the government in Hong Kong The protest known as the Umbrella Movement called for genuine democracy as well as a fairer social and economic system The book aims to provide a dynamic framework to explain why socioeconomic forces converged to produce such a situation Examining increasing inequality rising prices and stagnating incomes it stresses the role of economic and social factors as opposed to the domestic political and constitutional issues often assumed to be the root cause behind the protests It first argues that globalization and the increasing influence of China s economy in Hong Kong has weighted on salaries Second it shows that the oligopolistic nature of the local economy has generated rents which have reinforced inequality The book demonstrates that the younger generation which is still finding its place in society has been particularly affected by these phenomena especially with social mobility at a low point Offering a new approach to studying the Umbrella Movement this book will appeal to students and scholars interested in Hong Kong s political landscape as well Chinese politics more broadly      Advances in Pacific Basin Business, Economics and Finance Cheng-Few Lee,Min-Teh Yu,2025-05-05 Advances in Pacific Basin Business Economics and Finance APBBEF is a peer reviewed journal published by Emerald Publishing and is designed to focus on interdisciplinary research in finance economics and management among Pacific Rim countries      Going Into Labour Anna Fielder,2024-11-20 This insightful thoughtful work needs to be read by all of us Fielder brings together the two concepts of labour work and giving birth and shows us how both are subsumed under capitalism Barbara Katz Rothman author of In Labor Entirely original and a fascinating read Robbie Davis Floyd cultural medical and reproductive anthropologist Fielder s nuanced analysis demonstrates the contradictory features of obstetrics in capitalist society A pivotal addition to Marxist understandings of pregnancy and childbirth Kirstin Munro Assistant Professor The New School for Social Research Childbirth is often described as a natural process and yet the choices we make around birth the risks we face and the care available to us are tightly bound up in the dynamics of the capitalist system in which we live Capitalist relations shape childbirth in largely unacknowledged ways but with intensely inequitable often traumatic effects Going into Labour is a Marxist analysis of the labor of childbirth and of birth care Through the chapters former midwife Anna Fielder interrogates key features of contemporary childbearing situating birth as a crucial site of struggle against capitalism Fielder writes about productivity drives insurance companies risk formulations and calls for scientific evidence She emphasizes the pay of birth workers such as midwives and nurses and their working conditions She also signals the importance of political struggles in birthing arenas against forces including racism colonialism misogyny and cisheteronormativity As capitalism draws on these forces shaping contemporary inequities and oppressions activists work to gestate futures that aspire beyond the present constraints Anna Fielder is a sociologist in the Midwifery Department Auckland University of Technology AUT

Restoring Trust In Higher Education Aneil K. Mishra, 2017-03-09 Leaders from both private and public institutions provide a 360 degree view of the challenges and opportunities facing higher education and offer a manifesto for restoring relevance and respect Where is the value in higher education How can higher education restore its relevance and trust with students and parents Are there really any meaningful differences between public and private higher education This volume probes those questions and more exploring the myriad issues that have led many people to question whether higher education is worth the sacrifices it requires of parents and students Drawing on the experience and expertise of a wide variety of highly renowned academics respected government officials and well grounded individuals from the private sector this thought provoking book offers readers simple but powerful ways to evaluate whether prospective colleges and universities merit the very substantial investment of time abilities and financial resources they necessitate Readers will learn what to look for in a college or university and what questions to ask in selecting an institution of higher education They will also learn how parents students academicians and other stakeholders can advocate for changes to benefit both higher education and the constituency it serves

24-Hour Cities Hugh F. Kelly, 2016-07-15 Winner of the Gold Award in the Tenth Annual Robert Bruss Real Estate Book Competition 24 Hour Cities is the very first full length book about America s cities that never sleep Over the last fifty years the nation s top live work play cities have proven themselves more than just vibrant urban environments for the elite They are attracting a cross section of the population from across the U S and are preferred destinations for immigrants of all income strata This is creating a virtuous circle wherein economic growth enhances property values stronger real estate markets sustain more reliable tax bases and solid municipal revenues pay for better services that further attract businesses and talented individuals Yet just a generation ago cities like New York Boston Washington San Francisco and Miami were broke financially and physically scarred by violence and prime examples of urban dysfunction How did the turnaround happen And why are other cities still stuck with the hollow downtowns and sprawling suburbs that make for a 9 to 5 urban configuration Hugh Kelly s cross disciplinary research identifies the ingredients of success and the recipe that puts them together
