The African Photographic Archive Christopher Morton, Darren Newbury, 2020-10-15 African photography has emerged as a significant focus of research and scholarship over the last twenty years the result of a growing interest in postcolonial societies and cultures and a turn towards visual evidence across the humanities and social sciences At the same time many rich and fascinating photographic collections have come to light This volume explores the complex theoretical and practical issues involved in the study of African photographic archives based on case studies drawn from across the continent dating from the 19th century to the present day Chapters consider what constitutes an archive from the familiar mission and state archives to more local vernacular and personal accumulations of photographs the importance of a critical and reflexive engagement with photographic collections and the question of where and what is Africa as constructed in the photographic archive Essential reading for all researchers working with photographic archives this book consolidates current thinking on the topic and sets the agenda for future research in this field Archives, Objects, Places and Landscapes Munyaradzi Manyanga, Shadreck Chirikure, 2017-04-11 Dissatisfaction has matured in Africa and elsewhere around the fact that often the dominant frameworks for interpreting the continent's past are not rooted on the continent's value system and philosophy This creates knowledge that does not make sense especially to local communities The big question therefore is can Africans develop theories that can contribute towards the interpretation of the African past using their own experiences Framed within a concept revision substrate the collection of papers in this thought provoking volume argues for concept revision as a step towards decolonizing knowledge in the post colony The various papers powerfully expose that cleansed knowledge is not only locally relevant it is also locally accessible and globally understandable Archives and Justice V. S. Harris, 2007
