INNOVATIONS IN TOURISM: THEORETICAL AND PRACTICAL ASPECTS Roik Oksana, 2022-09-01 In recent years the sphere of tourism in Ukraine has been going through difficult times The Covid 19 pandemic has become a challenge for the tourism industry making domestic travel more popular in Ukraine as it will take some time to resume international tourism In the conditions of the coronavirus pandemic and the need to adhere to quarantine restrictions and social distance it became expedient to develop such types of tourism as green rural and ecological tourism To this end the Guidelines Protocol for the provision of rural green tourism services rural hospitality in the corona and post coronavirus period were developed which states that Within 2020 the year of tourism development in rural areas NGO Rural Green Tourism in Ukraine in cooperation with the National Tourism Organization of Ukraine joined the global initiative of the World Travel and Tourism Council WTTC Safe travels Experts of the Union and the EU Project Geographical Indications in Ukraine and partners developed a Protocol to adapt the work of farmsteads with priority to protect human health and effectively mitigate the effects of the COVID 19 pandemic Its implementation will allow the owners of rural estates that provide rural green tourism services to take effective practical measures to reduce the risk of coronavirus disease COVID 19 as owners of rural estates their families and tourists to gain additional competitive advantage guaranteeing the tourist increased attention to the protection of his health to improve the quality of rural green tourism services rural hospitality taking into account the sanitary and hygienic requirements and the requirements of social distancing The next terrible event for Ukraine was the war On February 24 2022 the Russian Federation launched a full scale aggressive war against Ukraine on the land sea and the air using units of the armed forces heavy ground weapons including long range artillery missiles naval ships and military aircraft The invasion has already resulted in significant civilian casualties mass destruction and damage to Ukraine's infrastructure and natural heritage Russian troops are attacking peaceful Ukrainian towns and villages from various directions including the temporarily occupied Donbas and Crimea and the north eastern region This is an act of war an attack on the sovereignty and territorial integrity of Ukraine and a gross violation of the UN Charter and fundamental norms and principles of international law Russia's military action is undoubtedly an unjustified and unprovoked act of aggression against independent and sovereign Ukraine as well as a violation of all existing norms of international law on nature protection sustainable development humanitarian law basic morals and principles of human coexistence In addition to the most obvious consequences of the war in many regions of Ukraine such as deaths destruction of homes general destruction and poverty the war worsens the country's economic situation threatens the environment and worsens social living conditions Therefore at the current stage of economic development and given the current situation in the world it is important for the survival of businesses in the war in Ukraine is the search for modern methods and tools for managing business processes which should be based on the principles of their adaptation to changing conditions innovative technologies Service companies respond extremely quickly to changes and new challenges which are characterized by a significant level of dynamism diversification of offers in the services market and fierce competition Therefore innovations are transformed into a decisive factor in determining new technologies for managing business processes of enterprises in the service sector of the regions in particular the hotel and restaurant and tourism business Henderson I L Avis M and Tsui W K T Wikhamn W Armbrecht J and Wikhamn B R Sipe L J Verreyne M L Williams A M Ritchie B W Gronum S and Betts K S Thomas R and Wood E are considered the application of innovation potential and substantiation of economic need for innovations Charkina T Yu Martseniuk L V Zadoia V O and Pikulina O V Smyrnov I Liubitseva O Kulinyak I Zhigalo I Yarmola K Hrebenuk H Charkina T Martseniuk L Pikulina O have proposed some solutions in the innovative management of enterprises and the formation of the technological component through the introduction of information systems and models economic mechanism of sustainable tourism marketing management of tourism enterprises and organizational aspects of the tourism market partially highlighting innovation strategy The works of these authors are a significant contribution to the development of the theory of innovative management of tourism enterprises However today there are a limited number of publications on the development of innovations in tourism in wartime The paper contains a review of various scientific approaches to definition of the term innovation in tourism to classifying innovations and evaluating the innovation activity of enterprises to find out their applicability in the tourism industry The author's review of the literature sources allows for outlining the features of innovations in tourism originating from their service character and the focus on improving interactions with consumer for the best possible satisfaction of consumer needs and for determining their role in increasing the competitiveness of enterprises in the tourism industry In order to achieve the goal the following tasks have been defined to investigate the categorical apparatus of the concept of innovation in tourism it will define the essence of this category to offer a classification of types of innovations in the tourism business on the basis of the views of both domestic and foreign scholars to provide a basic model for the development of innovations in the field of tourism services The essence of the innovative approach in tourism is the creation of new and improvement of existing services development of new markets strategic business alliances active introduction of modern information technology new forms and methods of management The effective use of innovations will lead to the creation of competitive tourism products and services both in the national and international markets The expert evaluation study results of the innovation implementation state by tourism enterprises of the region are presented the essence of which is the need to significantly expand and strengthen the innovation activity sphere which should fulfil a connecting function between science tourism business state authorities and local governments The practical application of such a proposal in the innovative development of the tourism sector will not only increase the competitiveness of the enterprise but also evaluate the feasibility of introducing new types of tourism products and services

Impact of New Media in Tourism Dinis, Maria Gorete, Bonixe, Luís, Lamy, Sónia, Breda, Zélia, 2021-02-19 Tourism consumers are increasingly demanding and seek to base their travel decision making process on relevant and credible tourism information In recent years user generated content on social media the opinion of travel bloggers and entertainment programs in the media have influenced the public's travel purchasing behavior and acted as a driving force for the development of tourism products such as film tourism It also has played a role in the evolution and development of marketing giving rise to new applications as in the case of digital and influence marketing On the other hand tourism organizations and destination management organizations face major challenges in communicating the attributes of a tourism product since this cannot be experienced before consumption Thus they need to know how and in which means or platforms of communication they can inform potential consumers Impact of New Media in Tourism provides theoretical and practical contributions in tourism and communication including current research on the influence of new media and the active role of consumers in tourism With a focus on decision making and increasing the visibility of products and destinations the book provides support for tourism agencies and organizations around the world Covering themes that include digital marketing social media and online branding this book is essential for professionals academicians researchers and students working or studying in the field of tourism and hospitality management marketing advertising and media and communications
