secular age Christianity and democracy have a complex history together but is there a future where these two great traditions draw the best out of one another What does that future look like in a heterogeneous society Sanders argues that democracy is stronger when it allows all of its religious citizens to participate fully in the public sphere and Christianity is richer when it demonstrates the wisdom of God from the ground up rather than legislating it from the top down In this reality the Evangelical church must return to Christianity's prophetic roots and see itself as a community in exile where participation in the political is important but not ultimate where the substantive work of the church happens after the election
