

How to Write an Autobiography

Tips to write an autobiography:

Like the examples of autobiographies discussed above, any autobiography needs to deal with a few aspects:

Introduction: One needs to give an introduction about themselves in the autobiography. This introduction needs to contain basic aspects like name, where you live, when and where were you born, what conditions were you born in, etc.

You in totality: This part of the autobiography deals with a general point of view, that you hold about yourself. It also needs to let the reader be able to visualize you in the current day. You need to include your current situations, habits, lifestyle etc.

Life, in general: This part of the autobiography deals with your view about life, on a general note. You need to include your understanding of life and its implications. This part is your route to propound your belief. So, make it descriptive.

View and aims: Here, you talk about where do you see yourself in the future or what you expect to happen in the future. This part, mostly, should be in compatibility with the previous aspect, else your reader could get confused and lose interest in the book.

Conclusion: Like all stories, an autobiography also needs to have an apt conclusion. You can leave a lasting impression on the reader with the help of your conclusion. Remember, you do not need to have a "moral of the story". You can simply end it with hope, if you like.

Always remember, it is your autobiography, not an example of an autobiography, you can write it the way you like. So, experiment and enjoy. As they say, "if you find it interesting while writing it, the reader will find it interesting while reading it". This is where I sign off. Hope to find your autobiography on the stands soon!!

The first thing you do when writing an autobiography is start off with a lot of facts about

Apparitions of the Self Janet Gyatso, 2020-11-10

Apparitions of the Self is a groundbreaking investigation into what is known in Tibet as secret autobiography an exceptional rarely studied literary genre that presents a personal exploration of intimate religious experiences In this volume Janet Gyatso translates and studies the outstanding pair of secret autobiographies by the famed Tibetan Buddhist visionary Jigme Lingpa 1730-1798 whose poetic and self-conscious writings are as much about the nature of his own identity memory and the undecidabilities of autobiographical truth as they are narrations of the actual content of his experiences Their translation in this book marks the first time that works of this sort have been translated in a Western language Gyatso is among the first to consider Tibetan literature from a comparative perspective examining the surprising fit as well as the misfit of Western literary theory with Tibetan autobiography She examines the intriguing questions of why Tibetan Buddhists produced so many autobiographies far more than other Asian Buddhists and how autobiographical self-assertion is possible even while Buddhists believe that the self is ultimately an illusion Also explored are Jigme Lingpa's historical milieu his revelatory visions of the ancient Tibetan dynasty and his meditative practices of personal cultivation The book concludes with a study of the subversive female figure of the Dakini in Jigme Lingpa's writings and the implications of her gender her sexuality and her unsettling discourse for the autobiographical subject in Tibet

Self-Understanding Garry L. Hagberg, 2019-11-15 This exciting new edited collection bridges the gap between narrative and self understanding The problem of self knowledge is of universal interest the nature or character of its achievement has been one continuing thread in our philosophical tradition for millennia Likewise the nature of storytelling the assembly of individual parts of a potential story into a coherent narrative structure has been central to the study of literature But how do we gain knowledge from an artform that is by definition fictional by definition not a matter of ascertained fact as this applies to the understanding of our lives When we see ourselves in the mimetic mirror of literature what we see may not just be a matter of identifying with a single protagonist but also a matter of recognizing long form structures long arc narrative shapes that give a place to and thus make sense of the individual bits of experience that we place into those structures But of course at precisely this juncture a question arises do we make that sense or do we discover it The twelve chapters brought together here lucidly and steadily reveal how the matters at hand are far more intricate and interesting than any such dichotomy could accommodate This is a book that investigates the ways in which life and literature speak to each other      A
