Community Care Practice and the Law Michael Mandelstam, 1999. This second edition of Community Care Practice and the Law has been substantially rewritten and restructured to reflect the rapid change affecting community care in legislation, the law, courts, policy and practice. The book bridges the gap between law and practice by juxtaposing fully and systematically legislation, legal judgments in the courts, local ombudsman and health service ombudsman findings, Parliamentary debates and answers and numerous reports about practice from the Department of Health, voluntary organisations, professional associations and academics. Distinctive features of the book include two large digests of cases containing well over three hundred legal judgments and local ombudsman investigations, a chapter consisting of a practical checklist of questions for managers, practitioners and users of services and their advisors to check the lawfulness of policies, eligibility criteria and individual decisions, two overview stand-alone chapters, one summarising the system, the other highlighting underlying themes and mechanisms, an inclusive approach embracing not only a range of both residential and non-residential care services but also equipment and home adaptations, carers, direct payments, NHS services generally and continuing care, moving and handling law, legislation and guidance, old and new, underlying joint working and joint finance, avoidance of jargon.

Clinical Skills in Child Health Practice E-Book Janet Kelsey, Gillian McEwing, 2008-04-25. This title is directed primarily towards health care professionals outside of the United States. It is a textbook of clinical skills that offers an excellent resource for all professionals providing care for children and young people. It presents a detailed step-by-step approach to clinical skills that may be used in both hospital and community settings. Each skill is presented with the evidence base required to ensure up-to-date safe practice. Chapters provide rationale for each step of the skill and are enhanced by diagrams and photographs to give the practitioner clear guidance and the confidence to perform unfamiliar skills. The accompanying PowerPoint presentations are a resource for both lecturers teaching clinical skills and individual students who are either encountering a skill for the first time or want to update their knowledge. A step-by-step guide to the fundamental skills required for child health care which gives clear guidance to help master the skills. Incorporates the latest clinical guidelines to ensure the most up-to-date information is used, enabling safe effective practice. Problem-based scenarios provide the opportunity to confirm knowledge and understanding of the skill. Extensive PowerPoint presentations can be used for teaching or personal guided study in the classroom or skills laboratory. Colour photos and video clips on the Evolve website present clear guidance on how to perform the skill.

Work, Subjectivity and Learning Stephen Billett, Tara Fenwick, Margaret Somerville, 2007-06-03. In recent years efforts to understand learning for and throughout working life have moved away from a focus on workplace training to concerns about learning as a component and outcome of engaging in work and work related activities and interactions This shift acknowledges a broader set of workplace factors that shape workers learning and development Yet equally it acknowledges that this learning through engagement is also necessarily shaped by the diverse ways that individuals elect to engage or participate in workplace activities Central here is the issue of individuals subjectivity and how this is shaped by but shapes engagement in work and therefore what learning flows from their participation It is in considering the relations among subjectivity learning and work that it is possible to advance both the conceptual and procedural bases for understanding learning through and for working life Moreover the focus on relations among subjectivity work and learning represents a point of convergence for diverse disciplinary traditions and practices that are provided by the book s contributors In this way the contributions represent something of the emerging perspectives that are elaborating the complex relations among subjectivity work and learning and circumstances in which they are played out
