Government Contract Law Charles Tiefer,William A. Shook,2004 The rapid developments in government contract law of the late 1990s and early 2000s have necessitated a new edition of this casebook, which offers the first contemporary one-volume casebook for a Government Contracts course. All chapters have been updated with new cases and notes, and two entirely new chapters have been added to ensure that the book's coverage is complete. The casebook makes government contract law accessible to readers of all backgrounds, from second-year law students who have taken only basic contract law, to commercial lawyers and non-lawyer government contract professionals seeking a broad, legally-focused introduction to the field. While all the traditional areas of interest receive coverage, the book emphasizes cases from increasingly important areas such as high technology, health care, commercial products, and state needs. Tiefer and Shook bring academic and practitioner experience and expertise to their treatment of government contract law. A teacher's manual is available.

Remedies in Contract and Tort Donald Harris,David Campbell,Roger Halson,2002-03 Remedies is one of the key organizing concepts of the obligations approach to the common law. This second edition modernizes the former 1995 edition quite considerably. It determines the place of remedies in contract and tort within the debate about the reform of the common law obligation.

Contract Jeannie Marie Paterson,Andrew Robertson,2020 Contract: Cases and Materials, 14th Edition, continues to be the leading casebook for students of contract law in Australia.

Contracts Edward Allan Farnsworth,Carol Sanger,Neil B. Cohen,Richard Rexford Wayne Brooks,Larry T. Garvin,2013 This casebook traces the development of contract law in the English and American common law traditions. Like earlier editions, the 8th edition features authoritative introductions to major topics, carefully selected cases, and well-tailored notes and problems. The casebook is ecumenical in its outlook, presenting a well-balanced approach to the study of contract law without ever losing sight of the importance of doctrine in all its detail. Cases are situated within a variety of disciplines - history, economics, philosophy, and ethics--and present the law in a variety of settings - commercial, familial, employment, and sports and entertainment. The 8th edition will feel familiar yet fresh to current users and both exciting and comfortable to newcomers to contracts or to this casebook.

Contracts John Swan, Barry J. Reiter, 1985

Hudson's Building and Engineering Contracts Atkin Chambers, 2011 Provides a comprehensive update of the law and interpretation of construction contracts since the 12th edition published in December 2010. Puts construction contracts in the context of ever changing case law and legislation whilst at the same time taking into account the practical and commercial realities relating to construction projects. Includes a new section on domestic arbitration.

Contract Law Ewan McKendrick, 2005 This book offers students a firm understanding of the central doctrines and the controversies associated with them. Presenting a unique balance of 1/3 text to 2/3 cases and materials, the book can be used both as a stand alone text or as a companion volume to a textbook. Comprehensive coverage is presented in a logical structure that maps closely onto courses and stimulating commentary is delivered through detailed introductions, extract notes and extensive comments within each chapter. Extended extracts illustrate points clearly and promote the essential skills of case-reading, encouraging more detailed analysis of salient points, while analysis of key academic commentaries on issues of controversy, contract clauses etc is also included to provide a well-rounded discussion. Extracts from materials such as the Principles of European Contract Law and the UNIDROIT Principles for International Commercial Contracts are incorporated throughout to provide a useful point of comparison with English Law - encouraging critical reflection upon the state of the English system and illustrating how the law of contract is regarded in other jurisdictions. Specimen clauses are also cited to demonstrate some of the practical problems that confront both businessmen and lawyers, offering students working examples of complex issues. Questions are placed at key points throughout the text to encourage further consideration and reflection of complex or controversial issues, while extensive referencing promotes further research. Written in a familiar and engaging style, this book offers a thought-provoking and well-balanced argument aimed squarely at undergraduates. Online Resource Centre: DT Critical summaries DT Web-links DT Extra cases and materials DT Recent updates Test bank: DT 150 multiple choice questions with answers and feedback

Complete Contract Law André Naidoo, 2021 Complete Contract Law offers students a carefully blended combination of the concepts and cases of contract law, accompanied by insightful commentary - a combination designed to encourage critical thinking, stimulate analysis, and promote a complete understanding.

Insurance Law and Regulation Kenneth S. Abraham, Daniel Schwarcz, 2015 This casebook, which has been used as the principal text in more than one hundred law schools, contains extensive material on insurance contract formation and interpretation; insurance regulation; insurable interest and liability for bad-faith breach; property, health, life, and disability insurance; commercial general liability and directors & officers liability insurance; auto insurance; and reinsurance. The casebook gives equal emphasis to personal and commercial insurance, and reprints within the relevant chapters four standard-form insurance policies. There is new material on the interpretation of ambiguities, insurance regulation, the Affordable Care Act, directors & officers insurance, and excess coverage.

Contract Cases and Materials Robert Clark, Blanaid Clarke, 2008 This updated edition enables greater understanding of key points, while also retaining the essence and core of each judgment in question.

Cases, Problems, and Materials on Contracts Thomas D. Crandall, Douglas J. Whaley, 2004 Instructors who want to concentrate on basic themes of contract law will find this flexible, problem-oriented casebook ideally suited to their purpose. Taking a straightforward approach, Cases, Problems, and Materials on Contracts, Fourth Edition, is carefully constructed to facilitate student understanding. To make teaching and learning both efficient and effective, the authors: Supply an excellent assortment of well-conceived hypotheticals - with answers in the Teacher's Manual. Provide thorough coverage of the basic themes of contract law. Keep the book to a manageable length, suitable for use in courses of four, five, or six hours. Use a popular cases-and-problems approach. Maintain an accessible tone throughout the text, with clear section/concept introductions. Organize the material for maximum flexibility, starting with Offer and Acceptance and moving to Consideration, but designed so you can easily begin with Consideration or Remedies. Edit cases tightly. Truly elaborate on all chapters for a smoothly flowing text. The Fourth Edition presents important new material: Careful coverage of extensive Article 2 changes; the focus is on the existing version of Article 2, but the 2003 rewrite is considered in detail so instructors can choose which version to emphasize. UETA And The E-Sign Act. Both classic and new cases. Revised and updated Teacher's Manual. New and refreshed problems. Help your students master the intricacies of contract law with the casebook that zeroes in on fundamental topics -- Thomas D. Crandall and Douglas J. Whaley's Cases, Problems, and Materials on Contracts, Fourth Edition. An author website to support classroom instruction using this title is available at <http://www.aspenlawschool.com/crandall4>

Canadian Contract Law John Swan, 2008

Sale of Land in NSW Patricia Lane, Derwent Coshott, S. Chapple, 2018-04-03 Sale of Land in NSW: Commentary and Materials Sixth Edition analyses the effects of the 2017 standard form of contract for sale of land and the Conveyancing (Sale of Land) Regulation 2017 (NSW) on conveyancing law and practice. The plain English style, carefully selected extracts and concise approach ensures readers gain a sound working knowledge of the fundamental legal principles of vendor and purchaser law. In the time since the last edition of this book, the law and practice of conveyancing has had to adapt to deal with the changing legal and regulatory environment. There have been three editions of the Standard Form Contract in the last three years to deal with the introduction of electronic conveyancing and capital gains withholding for foreign residents, and further increases in the number and type of regulatory matters that affect the quality of land, including the requirement for warnings and vendor disclosure. The intent of this book is still to provide students with a sound introduction to the fundamental concepts of conveyancing law and practice; and to provide practitioners with a first point of reference from which to commence their research. We have sought in this edition to provide some comparative material on aspects of the law of conveyancing in other Australian jurisdictions. One thing that has stood out in preparing this edition has been the variety of standard form contracts in the Australian States and Territories and the extent of differences, both great and subtle, in their legislative regimes. It has not been possible to adopt a systematic review of those regimes, but where possible we have provided references to interstate statutes, or a short comparative commentary. The primary subject of the book, though, is the law of New South Wales. There have not been quite so many new decisions to extract as in the previous edition, but the interaction of principles of property, contract and equity has produced decisions on several practical aspects, such as the implications of providing settlement statements, and the relationship between the purchaser's obligation to submit a transfer and the vendor's obligation to convey
